Dear Friends,

Thanks to YOU, the 2017/2018 fiscal year was a winner for children in our community. More than 8,000 local children and teens benefitted from life-changing – and often life-saving - services and programs provided by Boys & Girls Clubs of St. Lucie County. YOU helped make GREAT FUTURES happen for those kids - especially for those who need us most.

Do More, Give More, Be More was our guiding theme throughout this fiscal year. As you look through this Annual Report, you’ll see how this theme inspired us to reach new heights of achievement.

Our 2018/2019 theme - Recognize Value, Create Value, Add Value – will guide our Board, staff, and volunteers to make Boys & Girls Clubs of St. Lucie County a super-valuable success for our kids. YOU are an important contributor to this success!

You’re going to hear a lot more from us in 2018/2019 as we celebrate our 25th Anniversary. You’re at the top of our invitation list for activities celebrating this historic milestone.

Boys & Girls Clubs of St. Lucie County is "A Place to Become..." A ballerina. An astronaut. An all-star athlete. If kids can dream it, Boys & Girls Clubs can help them become it.

You’re invited to visit a Club close to you, meet our professional staff and awesome Club members, and see your donations in action. We guarantee you will be inspired and impressed!

With gratitude,

Will Armstead, CEO

To Infinity and Beyond

The newly remodeled Infinity Club, the after-school and summer home for the Club kids of Boys & Girls Clubs of St. Lucie County, is aptly named for the infinite amount of opportunity afforded the members who attend the facility on 23rd Street in Fort Pierce.

In partnerships with the City of Fort Pierce, Fort Pierce Housing Authority, and Allegany Franciscan Ministries, the Infinity Clubhouse has been restored to a shining gem in Lincoln Park and a beacon of hope for all who come to learn and play there.

Inside the building, other partners shared in the transformation. PNC Bank sponsored the Education Room and former Judge Cynthia Angelos sponsored the beautiful new game room, just to name a few.

Each day after school, more than 100 Club kids, each with their own stories to tell, take part in this next phase of their growth as young adults. “We want to make sure we provide an atmosphere where our youth feel as if they ‘fit in’, can express who they are inside, and be accepted at the same time,” said Tanesha Jones, Infinity Club Director.

We invite the community to be part of this revitalization and to call us and arrange a tour of this new version of Infinity. The Club Kids love to show their pride in what they’ve learned and created.
Community Partners Come Together

The Five Key Elements for positive youth development drive stronger outcomes for youth in Boys & Girls Clubs’ three priority areas — Academic Success, Good Character and Citizenship, and Healthy Lifestyles.

We build strong relationships with Club members by focusing on the Five Key Elements for Positive Youth Development. We invested in advanced training for our youth development staff including CHAMPS; Trauma Informed Care with Tykes & Teens; Youth Coping Skills with Treasure Health, Positive Behavior Interventions & Support, CPR/First Aid training with American Red Cross, and Youth Mental Health Training.

CHAMPS, also practiced at St. Lucie Public Schools, stands for Conversation, Help, Activity, Movement, Participation, and success. By using the same verbiage that students hear at school, they are better prepared to succeed in the group Club setting. Prior to CHAMPS, behavior procedures were inconsistent and varied. We have seen vast improvement in the behavior of youth and ability for staff to implement successful programming since starting CHAMPS.

Trauma Informed Care involves understanding, recognizing, and responding to the effects of all types of trauma. “Children who have experienced trauma may not react to stresses in ways we would consider normal,” said Dr. Anastasia Legakes, VP of Operations.

Tykes & Teens, a local mental health agency, provides specialized training for Club staff on how to identify signs of traumatic experiences in Club kids and how to manage their stress and behavior.

How does stress feel to a 2nd grader? Where in your body do you feel anger? How do teens build inner self-resilience? These questions and more were answered by grief counselors with the Youth & Family Program at Treasure Health during the new Youth Coping Skills program.

Florida Council of Mental Health provided training in Youth Mental Health – specifically how to avoid compassion fatigue for staff; and how to identify signs of suicide in teens.

Five Key Elements for Positive Youth Development

Key Element #1

A safe, positive environment

“I feel respected at the Club – no bullying allowed!”

Key Element #2

Access to fun and a sense of belonging

“Being at the Club with my friends is a lot more fun than being home alone.”

Volunteer Ron Bowen works with Colton on his homework at our Oak Hammock school-based Club

Key Element #3

Access to supportive relationships

“If I have a problem, I feel comfortable talking with staff at the Club.”

Key Element #4

Meaningful opportunities and expectations

“My Club Director expects me to be great so I am, and I earned my way to a college tour!”

Key Element #5

Formal and informal recognition

“Staff notices when I try hard and they let my mom know.”
As the 2018 Youth of the Year, Rebecca planned to be “The Voice of the Teen.” Her platform addressed three teen issues: expressing feelings, building self-esteem and self-confidence, and stopping cyber-bullying. “Obviously, teens are dealing with a lot more than these three issues, but I feel these have the most influence in teens’ lives today,” she explained.

Jacques speaks from personal experience. In school, she was teased by other students for having dark skin. She felt ashamed and self-conscious. Looking for approval from her peers, she began bleaching her skin and made other bad decisions. After her mother discovered her self-harming habits, her parents decided to sign her up at Boys & Girls Clubs.

At the Boys & Girls Club Chuck Hill Clubhouse, Jacques came to trust the staff and shared her story. “Sharing my feelings helped build my self-esteem and gave me confidence to deal with what was happening to me,” she explained. Jacques took leadership roles in Boys & Girls Club service programs and became a mentor to younger members. “The Club gave me encouragement and purpose – just what I needed to move on in my life.”

As Youth of the Year for St. Lucie County, Jacques appeared on radio interviews and television programs and participated in community events. She met with local elected officials and community leaders and was even a guest speaker at the WPBF Health Fair, which featured author and TV personality, Dr. Mehmet Oz. Jacques was invited on stage by Dr. Oz, and shared her vision for America’s youth to live a healthy lifestyle with a crowd of 5,000 people.

“I feel that by telling my story, I’m an example of someone who overcame these issues. I want to inspire teens, parents, teachers and Boys & Girls Club staff to be more aware, mindful, and supportive.” Jacques is proof that your past doesn’t define who you are or whom you can become. Once on a path of destruction, now Jacques is an outstanding student and role model to all.

Last spring she graduated from Lincoln Park Academy with a 4.9 GPA, in addition to receiving her Associate of Arts degree in Health Management from Indian River State College. This past summer she began studying for her bachelor’s degree at Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University. Upon completion of that program she plans to attend FSU for her master’s degree in health management. Her long-term goal is to own and manage her own medical clinic in Fort Pierce. “I know my goal is going to take hard work and dedication,” she said, “but I can do it – especially with the support I have from my family, friends, and the Boys & Girls Club. “They will always be with me and for me.”

The Youth of the Year program creates opportunities for Club youth to receive recognition at the local, state, regional and national levels. Local Club winners go on to compete at the state level each year. The winner of five Regional Youth of the Year competitions, along with the Military Youth of the Year, travel to Washington, D.C. to participate in a process that determines the National Youth of the Year.
Our Events in 2018

Seafood Festival

Thousands of tourists and Treasure Coast residents enjoyed seafood and entertainment at the seventh annual Port St. Lucie Seafood Festival, hosted for the first time by Boys & Girls Clubs of St. Lucie County, at the Port St. Lucie Civic Center on March 10. The event featured a wide selection of seafood, live music, vendors and a Kid's Zone.

The Seafood Festival brought in over $40,000 to help enhance the lives of thousands of children in St. Lucie County through club programs and activities.

Chili Cook Off

Boys and Girls Clubs of St. Lucie County, with presenting sponsor A&G Concrete Pools, brought back memories of Saturday morning cartoons by hosting the 36th Annual Chili Cook-Off July 14 with a cartoon theme. The event at the Havert L. Fenn Center in Fort Pierce saw Dan Kurek crowned as the 2018 chili champion.

Thirty-eight teams created booths to fit the cartoon theme while cooking chili with their own secret ingredients to compete for the title of ‘best’ chili, as chosen by a volunteer panel of judges.

Each team did its own fundraising with the sales of pie, soda, snacks, cornbread and anything else to go with chili to earn the title of the highest fundraiser.

The top fundraisers were the SLC Board of County Commissioners with over $11,600 followed by Southern Eagle Distributing with $5,400 and Treasure Coast Health with $4,300.
Our Events in 2018

Great Futures Teen Summit

Boys & Girls Clubs of St. Lucie County teamed up with Indian River State College (IRSC) for a “Teen Summit.” The “Teen Summit” was held at the Fort Pierce IRSC campus and was created for the purpose of helping potential high school graduates get a glimpse of what college life is like. The teens who attended were able to do activities and learn about other aspects of college life through breakout sessions and testimonies from current college students and Boys and Girls Club alumni.

Breakout sessions included professionals from the community talking about another aspect of college life. For example, Adam Fetterman, a lawyer, spoke about punctuality and following through, and Sabre Mochachino, a fashion designer, spoke about appropriate attire. Business members of the community came to show their support for our teens through the career fair. They interacted with the students and shared their career readiness experience. The event concluded with a “Dress for Success” fashion show, to which our youth learned the “dos and don'ts” of professional attire.

Day for Kids Fishing for Futures

With help from founder, Rick Miller of TRM Construction and the Law office of Villafranco & Garcia, the annual ‘Day for Kids’ event combined with the inaugural ‘Fishing for Futures’ event was a success.

With several acres set aside for kids’ activities like bounce houses, water slides, and a kickball tournament, there was no shortage of space to play. A group of dancers from the Chuck Hill Clubhouse performed a choreographed routine to the crowd.

Club Kids were also treated to some time on the water for fishing, thanks to a sponsorship by Children's Service's Council of St. Lucie County. The kids went on either a morning or afternoon excursion with chaperones on the Fort Pierce Lady, a deep-sea fishing boat. Some of the kids had never fished before or even been on a boat.

One of the event sponsors, Backcountry Fishing, earned a trifecta award taking the first, second and third place spots in the inshore portion of the tournament.
Boys & Girls Clubs of St. Lucie County recently hosted the 23rd annual Chuck Hill Golf Classic at Club Med, Sandpiper Bay Golf Club in Port St. Lucie, raising a record $32,000 in the process.

Twenty-five teams filled the course for this annual event, sponsored by Max Davis Associates.

“The golfers got to meet and interact with our Club Kids who we have on various holes throughout the course. Some of them had never held a golf club but the players took the time to let the kids take their first swing before advancing to their next hole,” said Will Armstead, CEO.

Golfers enjoyed a great day of golf, filled with competition, fun, prizes and fellowship.

The Chuck Hill Golf Classic’s goal is to provide support needed for Boys & Girls Clubs to fulfill its mission, to enable all young people, especially those who need the Clubs most, to reach their full potential, as productive, caring, responsible citizens. Money raised by the tournament was earmarked for the renovations of the Infinity Clubhouse.

The proverbial village that influences 8,000 children in St. Lucie County came together for a dinner where guests were treated like royalty, served steaks, danced, and gallantly outbid one another for rich rewards.

The Oct. 19th event was the 11th annual Steak & Stake Dinner & Auction benefiting Boys & Girls Clubs of St. Lucie County at the Port St. Lucie Civic Center.

Lavish packages that lined the Emerald Ballroom included jewelry, catered dinners, sports memorabilia, travel packages and more.

The guests weren’t just there to raise money for the programs of BGCSLC. Club Kids also were there, seated at each table, to meet and interact with the adults over the dinner, prepared by Okeechobee Steakhouse.

This year’s featured Club Kid was alumnus and presenting sponsor John Jacobs of John Jacobs Construction.

“Before the event we spent time at some of the Clubs and got to meet and play with the kids. It’s eye-opening and I recommend that everybody take the time to see the world through their eyes,” said Jacobs, who was a Boys & Girls Club member in Indianapolis.

It takes a village to raise the children of this community, and it was great to have 500 community villagers under one roof to celebrate the Club Kids they help raise.

Forever Mr. Jarius

Recognized as a Champion of Youth by Children’s Service Council, Boys & Girls Club staffer Jarius Gilliam has proven to go above and beyond for the youth of St. Lucie County. Gilliam is a 10-year employee and club director of the Fort Pierce Teen Center who is dedicated to making a real difference. Jarius lives his values, evidenced by becoming legal guardians of two Club teen aged members in need, Tavaris Riley and Terrance Thomas.

“A hero is someone who gives his or her life to something bigger than oneself. I learned this from Mr. Jarius and because of him I am now serving my country in the Army. The Army gives me a sense of direction. The Army, and life, is about what you make it – stay positive and motivated.” - Tavaris Riley, Infantryman in the 11th Bravo at Fort Bliss, Texas, Boys & Girls Clubs Alumni.

Tavaris was just 15 when his grandmother died leaving him alone and fending for himself until Jarius stepped in.

“Tavaris came to stay with me first,” said Gilliam, who was 23 at the time. “It was supposed to be temporary, but then became long term.” Terrance, Tavaris’ best friend, was also struggling at home and soon joined Terrance and Gilliam.

“Our agreement was you stay in school, graduate and I will do my best to help you get to the next level,” Gilliam said. He required the teens to make passing grades and participate in sports in addition to being a part of the Boys & Girls Clubs. The agreement worked. The teens graduated from high school and they started their adult lives. “Tavaris realized he needed something more challenging, so he joined the Army and is doing well,” said Gilliam. Terrance hopes to become a physical therapist and is attending college in Orlando.

“Like all my past members, Tavaris and Terrance still call me Mr. Jarius and that’s OK with me. I think that shows I’m making a difference through Boys & Girls Clubs of St. Lucie County. We want to give every child at the Club a foundation to build on so they can mature into their full potential,” said Gilliam.

“I’d be a completely different person if not for the Boys & Girls Club. “Mr. Jarius helped us study, showed us how to dress and good penmanship. My GPA went up from 2.0 to 2.7 - not great, but better. “No matter where my future takes me, I will always go back to the Club. It’s an amazing place.” - Terrance Thomas, Boys & Girls Clubs Alumni
